They said it couldn't be done but Hancock County's board of supervisors came up unanimously Monday with a redistricting plan closely following the one man, one vote doctrine of the U.S. Supreme Court.

The maps and descriptions are now being prepared for filing with the U.S. District Court in Biloxiby next Monday-deadline fixed by the three-judge federal penal handling the case brought by Dr. A.K. Martinolich, and Powell Glass, jr., against the supervisoro. The motion to adopt the plan baced on an equal (or camiequal) distribution of population came from Supervisor H.G. Dean of Beat 1 after a one and a half hour executive cession. Charles Lavinghouse of Beat 3 seconded and the vote was unanimous.

Than Supervisor Jack Lott of Beat 4 moved for approval of an alternate reapportionment plan, seconded by Dolph Kellar of Beat 2, showing some minor shifts in beat boundaries under which supervisors agreed to run at large 11 the first proposal does not satisfy the federal court. This, too, carried unanimously. Board attorney Ruble Griffin said the alternate took into consideration natural boundaries, etc.

The opecial redistricting census supervised by Thomas J. Garner, county crew leader for the sederal census of 1920. was forwarded to the s perviscare late last week. It showed the present population at 17, 503. On this boses, the perfect colit would be 3,501 people

What the supervisors adopted as their one man, one vote answer ranges from ahigh of 3.636 in the new Beat 2 down to 3,324 in the new Beat 5.a opread of 312.

Here's what they did. Precent Beat 1 continuss as such, expended up to Searo Avenue, Waveland, for 3,680 people.

Beat 5, clashed by come two-thirds in size in the heavipopulated Bay St. Louis-Waveland rea, becomes Beat 2 with 9,636 people and fans out into MicrosiOpi Test Fo-cility's buffer zone. Beat 3 is an eelish looking thing, running from the for northwest of the county, including the precent four and a half cections of Beat 2 now, down to take in a small section of Bay St. Louis couth of Main Street and the Courthouse. lts count to 3,453.

State Rep. Walter J. Phillips sitting in on the meeting, said he didn't care how it was done, he simply wanted to keep livestock off the highways. Phillips has indicated he would try to introduce a bill which would neet Hancock County's needs.

The board took no action on bids received at Monday's meeting for an adding machine and two typewriters-one for the court reporters and the other for the county agent's office. Bids come from Office Supply Co., Business Aides Co. and the International Buckeys Machine Co. representative in Guliport. Office Supply and Business Aldes both bid on Royal typewriters and Mrs. Nelius Forre, cecretory to the county agent, said the didn't like that brand. IBM did not bid on the 16-inch corrioge she needs. There was also queotion about the adding machine for the chancery clerk being what she needs. At Monday's session the board accepted the high bid of Ola V. Moran for $1.501 to buy two lots and the dwelling in Clermont Harbor which Xavier Camors had deeded the county when he emered the county home. The five bids ranged from a low of $901 from W.P. McCuchon to Moran's price.

The president was fully entitled to do a little crowing a few days ago, when he signed the bill creating a new Cabinet-level Department of Transportation. The act, he said, was 'one more coonskin natled to the wall." Subject to a couple of serious recervations, most conservatives will join in acclaiming this executive reorganization among the few useful achievements of the 89th Congress.

When it gets into actual operation, soon after the first of the year, the new department will become the fifth largest in the federal government. Some 90,000 employees, now scattered among half a dozen agencies, will be brought under one administrative roof. The Secretary of Transportation will have a budget of more than $6 billion a year.

· act contemplates three major divisions within the reorganized department, tac' of them to be headed by an administrator appointed by the president and confirmed by the Senate. These will include a Federal Aviation Administration, a Federal Railroad / Iministration, and a Federal Highway 1dmi stration (which, incidentally, will mean one more "FHA" to accompany the Farmers Ho e Administration and the Federal Housing Administration). As Florida's Spassard Holland remarked in the Senate, the department emerges as a recollegged s instead of a four legged chair. If the Senate's view had prevailed, a Federal Maritime Administration also would have been created, to take over the present Maritime Administration that operates within the Department of Commerce. The House adamantly refused to accept this logical regrouping, but the act gives the new secretary come persuasive powers, nonetheleso, in the field of internal navigation.

Each of the new administrations has come great opportunities allead. Perhaps none of these is more important than the task of achieving a major b eak-through in urban mass transportation. Given adequate financing and energetic direction, the highway and r silroad divisior s, working together, may be able to come up with some joint answers that begin to make sense. There must be ways to make effective use of the railways' vast potential for hauling poscengers in and out of our central cities. It will be up to this department to find them. But if opportunities exist for imaginarive public Dervice, opportunities also exist for new and oppressive bureaucracy. Unless the new boos-man of the Federal Highway Administration exerts an iron hand, his domain

John Dougher has been elected president and council could turn into a vast swamp of conflicting and overlapping programs.

Whilin this new FHA, one will find a National Traffic Safety Bureau, charged with carrying out the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Sofety Act of 1966. Just down the hall, one will find an entirely exparate agency, the National Highway Safety Bureau, charged with carrying out the Highway Safety Act of

Ultimately, one assumes, these two agencies will have to be combined or at least closely coordinated. If the 89th Congreen had not been in such a mad rush to legiologe, all of the proliferating programs of highway safety might have been combined in a single act. As it is, the two new bureous, plus the old Bureous Public Roads, will be in a constant ocramble to promote escentially complementary efforts in safety

This recervation should be voiced also. that the new department may fall into the kind of massive centralizing that defeats innovation. The Highway Safety Act demands that every state put into operation a substantially uniform program of highway safety. These must include "a state program for driver education in the ochool system," along with standardized programs of recordkeeping, licensing, vehicle registration and inspection. Failure to adopt these measures by Jan. 1, 1969, could cost a state 10 per cent of its normal federal highway aid.

Now, it may be that one uniform system of motor vehicle laws would be a desirable thing. Perhaps we ought to have a national operator's permit, a national registry of automobile titles, a national plan for liability insurance, and all the rect. Such a prospect may be seen between the lines of the new act. Yet any move in this direction would create some formidoble threats to fields of pu iic administration now controlled by the st. es. To gain uniformity at the expence of upeful experiment to caldom a good thing.

These peveral recorvations may be left to cook on the back of the stove. The new department holds great promise of coordinoting federal functions that now wander aimlessly across the bureaucratic countryside. Civen a first-rate man as Secreatry of Transportation (and ceveral able men have been mentioned for the poor), this newest addition to the federal family could do much to keep this mobile notion more comfortably

While the precident is scaling to find new approaches to peace on his trip, he is hoping his recent talk with Foreign Minister Gromyto o f Russia will be bringing simultaneous pressure on North Viet Nam to open truce talks.

Johncon made it clear to Gromyto that if the precent U.S. peace offenoive again fails to produce results, it may lead to a full-ocale military offendive. The precident boo told his coviders bluntly that he does not imend to allow the precent cralemore to continue indefinitely; he will rick bringing Red China into the war if that becomes necessary. Gromyteo as usual was noncommittal. He made no promites that Russia would do anything to try to end the war. But he will report the precident's views to the Kremlin, and Soviet leaders coon may have to decide whether a full rusture with Red China over Viet Nam would be more harmful to Russian interests than the growing risk of World War III.

eacetul cooperation

Precident Johnson brought all his persuasive powers to bear on Ruppia's Andrei Gromyto during their recent talk to help bring peace in Viet Nam. Once he complained jovially that the Kremlin leaders had kicked him in the groin. Later he pleaded earneraly for peaceful cooperation. And he made come progress.

The dour Soviet foreign minister was ushered into the President's eval office the back way in order to avoid newsman. He left, looking less grim, b y the same anonymous route. What they said to each other has been kept quiet. All the White House would announce was that they had discussed "A number of subjects of mutual concern."

However, this column can report come of the highlights of their occret conversation, which less the precident exultant over the prospects of better east-west relations.

I have never felt more encouraged," he enthused after Gromyko had disappeared through the door.

During the historic viole, the precident treated Gromylon like a minguided congressman who needed to be shown that light. He argued the American case in Viet Nam with powerful logic, opening one moment in the name of humanity, the next as one politican to another. Gromylo, though he openio English as well as the president,

'During the Dobrymin pauce," he lamented, "you ideked mo in the groin.

Actually, he used a more earthy term. Gromyto chuckled. If those abould be new concessions, the president presced, 'would you lack me again?"

Gromylia copressed course us interest in finding a new approach to a Viet Nam peace, but he was non-committal about what the Soviet recounts would be.

The two leaders also talked about increasing East-West tredo, reducing military forces in Europe, and resoving mosetiotions over a treaty to hak the spreed of nuclear vectors. At one point, the precident pulled a ballo out of bio pociety යින් සාධ්ය දෙන මත යන ලක්ෂයා ව යන සේන සේ දෙන වේග සේනයා මතය

Spinners' running good

Mr. and Mrs. L. Coyle of 203 Julia St. were fishing recently in Wolf River. Mrs. Coyle got a strike and booked a beauty, a nice spinning rod and reel in good condition. Owner same by calling on the Coyles. (There are still some nice poeple in this world)

Tale of blue water fishing

Then there are the A.C. Mitchells, Mitch, who is from Logtown, was chancery and circuit clerk for 12 years but his real talent 's fishing. I've seen him catch a bootload when no one else could even get a strike and Marjorie is just about as good.

M' h has always wanted to try Pacific Ocean fishing and finall, got around to it. They and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart reriday from a two-week jount to Southern California and Mexico. They fi hed out of Mazatlan, Mexico, a small port on the shores of the acific and had a ball using deep sea tackle and outriggers. As things go frequently, little Marjorie caught most of the fish, including balck marlin, sailfish, dolphin and ponita.

They also boated a whopping sea turtle and Mitch is brokenhearted cause he couldn't bring it home for a big turtle dinner.

With our new Overhead Cam Six you'd better believe it.

Our OHC 6 delivers 165 hp on regular gas. And 215 horses from the premium gas 4-barrel version. Most American sixes (and some underprivileged V-8s) don't even come close. Expensive European sports machines do, but they're overhead Came, too. In fact, they inspired us. Our OHC 6 is standard on all Tempests and Le Mans. So are a host of new safety features like passenger-guard door locks, General Motors' new energy absorbing steering column and a four way hazard warning flasher. We've said enough.
